Big Expansion Program To Be Started At Johnson Bronze Co.

Johnson Bronze Company Will Build Addition

Large Expansion Move Gets C. P. A. Approval—Will Add 400 Or 500 Employees

EXPANSION WILL COST MILLION

Announcement was made today by P. J. Flaherty, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Johnson Bronze Company of the proposed erection of a new two story building, approximately 110x400 feet long, on ground adjoining the plant. The ground, purchased from the Pennsylvania Railroad, extends from the present plant to North Moravia Street. Authority has been received from the Civilian Production Administration for the construction, and ground will be broken about April 1.

The addition will give employment to 400 or 500 additional employees, which will increase the present employment of 2,000 by about 25 percent. The estimated cost of the addition and machinery will be about one million dollars.

Need More Space
Recently the Johnson Bronze Company went into the manufacture of a new aluminum alloy bearing. The demands for this type of bearing have increased to the point where it is absolutely necessary that more manufacturing floor space be provided, in order to meet its requirements. The Johnson Bronze Company has been expanding its automotive line considerably, and it is also necessary to make room for an expansion program along this line.

This company is the only one in the United States manufacturing every type of sleeve bearings. Its products at the present time include aluminum alloy, babbit-on-steel, babbit-on-bronze, bronze-on-steel, solid bronze bearings and powdered bronze bearings. It has been a pioneer in the oilless bearing field, which is made from powdered metals.

After this expansion program is completed, the Johnson Bronze Company will be one of the largest integrated bearing manufacturer in the United States.

PA NEW OBSERVES

March 15 is coming on apace. This is the final week in which to make income tax report for the year 1946.

Old Brer Groundhog apparently knew what he was doing when he hiked back into his underground home on February 2. Five of the six weeks have passed, and they have been packed full of real winter, you will recall.

What threatened to be a very busy week-end for road crews of the State Highway department turned out to be a normal period, with little ashing necessary to make the roads safe for travel. Snow which fell early Sunday morning soon disappeared from the highways. Department Superintendent Alfred Martin reported, though, that the men are unloading ashes and getting ready for any nasty weather that might crop up.

Mr. Strouss had been ill but a short time, having suffered a cerebral thrombosis on February 27, while about his duties at the Youngstown store. This was followed by a cerebral hemorrhage, a few days later, which resulted in death.

Mr. Strouss had been president of the Strouss-Hirschberg Company since 1924, and general manager since 1925. Mysterious Shot Alerts Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—(INS)—Officials of Alcatraz Federal penitentiary were on the alert early today for a possible escape attempt after a mysterious shot was fired from an unidentified launch off the penal island in San Francisco Bay last night.

The bullet narrowly missed guard Charles E. Bray, 25, who was patrolling "the rock". Its firing swiftly set in motion a protective net thrown around the famous island where a bloody escape riot last May took five lives.

Chinese Troops Sent To Formosa

(BULLETIN)
NANKING, March 10.—(INS)—More than 10,000 Chinese government troops were sent to Formosa today to help quell a spreading insurrection in which American sources in Nanking estimated unofficially several thousand have been killed or wounded.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek intervened with drastic orders to put an end to the bloody uprising against Chinese rule. The dispatch of the reinforcements to the revolt-torn island from Shanghai was ordered by the generalissimo yesterday.

United States To Reaffirm Baruch Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Mar. 10.—(INS)—The United States will reaffirm its full support of the Baruch atomic control and inspection plan before the United Nations Security Council today in answering Russia's refusal to accept such basic principles.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate at Lake Success, intends also to renew his demand that the eleven-nation body "take the Baruch plan and amendments already submitted back to the atomic energy commission for further consideration."

This direct challenge to the Soviet Union's obstruction of further immediate action on international atomic control and inspection measures has the support of a majority of the delegates.

A consensus of security council delegates disclosed that with the possible exception or abstention of Poland and Russia, the Baruch plan and its related provisions will draw a heavy vote of approval for reconsideration by the atomic energy commission.

New York-Burbank Record Claimed By Flier Paul Mantz

BURBANK, Cal., Mar. 10.—(INS)—Movie stunt flyer Paul Mantz today claimed a New York-Burbank nonstop record for single-engine propeller driven planes.

Mantz whizzed here yesterday from Gotham in 7 hours, 47 minutes, 19 seconds. He failed, however, to beat the 7 hours, 28 minutes, 2 seconds record established by the B-25 Superfortress "Dreamboat" Aug. 1, 1946.

Mantz piloted the same P-51 Mustang fighter plane with which he set a new west-east transcontinental speed record Feb. 28. His elapsed time was 6 hours, 7 minutes, 5 seconds. Yesterday, however, he had head winds to buck all the way.

Approval Given By CPA For B.&O. Building Here

Railroad Given Go-Ahead Signal For Erection Of $130,000 Rest Home On Cherry St.

MODERN COAL DOCK IS ALSO PLANNED

With the approval by the Civilian Production Administration of the plans for erection of a $130,000 structure on East Cherry street, to house a rest house and restaurant, it is expected that a actual construction work on the project will get under way in the near future.

Selby O'Neill, Terminal Trainmaster, stated today that no date had been set for breaking of ground for the building, but that it would likely get under way this spring.

Will Be 70x170 Feet

The structure will be 70 by 170 feet and in addition to providing dormitories for crews which lay over here, will have shower bath facilities for the train crews, and other facilities. The building will also house the restaurant, which with sleeping quarters, is now located at New Castle Junction, near the B. and O. roundhouse.

To Build Coal Dock

Another improvement, which is contemplated by the B. and O. here, is the construction of a new modern coal dock, where locomotives can be coaled, while laying over in the local terminal. B. and O. engineering forces are now surveying for this improvement, which it is understood, will cost around $70,000. The new rest house will be located between the present B. and O. tracks and Cherry street, just west of the Shenango river, near the site of the old B. R. and P. station.

Treaty With Japan Further Delayed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(INS)—Anticipated delays by the "Big Four" foreign ministers in drafting peace treaties for Germany and Austria today were taken to indicate that a treaty for Japan cannot be considered for a year or more.

Observers in Washington were convinced that, despite demands for some revised agreement with Russia on Far Eastern problems, Secretary of State George C. Marshall would not touch the subject at this time.

It was understood that Marshall feels that the European problems must be settled first and that there must be a clearer understanding between eastern Europe and the democratic world.

Report $375,000 Damage By Fire In York Hotel

YORK, Pa., Mar. 10.—(INS)—Damages to the Colonial hotel and several stores in York were estimated at $375,000 today in the wake of a fire which forced 175 guests to flee into sub-zero temperature Sunday morning.

The fire started in a third-floor room occupied by several men at 2:45 a. m. Sunday, according to firemen. Lower floors were damaged by water while the top floors and the roof were gutted. No injuries were reported.

Origin of the fire was not determined, according to Fire Chief Ellis Wagner. Damages to the seven-story hotel were estimated at $250,000.

Bread Price Is Increased

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 10.—(INS)—The staff of life increased one-half to one and a half cents a loaf today in the Pittsburgh district.

The price raise jumped bread costs from 14½ to 15½ cents a loaf, on the average, bakeries reported. The increase was in line with a general price increase throughout the nation, brought by higher wheat costs.

U. S. Army Seizes All Occupation Currency

FRANKFURT, Mar. 10.—(INS)—The United States Army today confiscated all American occupation currency in both Germany and Japan in a drive to combat counterfeiting and black market operations.

Headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo revealed that the War department order was aimed especially at German counterfeiters. It will, however, have a widespread effect in Japan.

Dollar "script" in the American occupation zones of Germany was taken out of circulation beginning at 5 a. m.

In Japan calls for return of the currency were sent out at 10 a. m. Occupation troops and other personnel passing the currency were told to turn it in by 6 p. m. for exchange.

The operation in Germany was more spectacular. Surprise "raids" were made on billets and military installations throughout the occupation zone in the drive to confiscate all holdings of military payment certificates.

New Attack In Palestine

One British Soldier Killed And Six Others Wounded—Ship Crew Seized

JERUSALEM, Mar. 10.—(INS)—A new attack was carried out today by Jewish underground forces against a British military camp near Hadera, in northwest Palestine.

One British soldier was killed in the fray and six others were wounded.

Some surprise was expressed in the Holy Land that the British had not extended martial law regulations as a result of the renewed outbreak of violence by extremists over the weekend.

Ship Crew Seized
Considerable interest was centered on the action of the maritime court in the Port of Haifa which is to hear the cases of 18 Americans who were among 20 crew members of the illegal immigrant ship April which was intercepted in its attempt to run the British sea blockade.

The American will be charged with "aiding and abetting" illegal immigration prohibited by the British.

The crew was arrested after British vessels overhauled the April, renamed the Ben Hecht, when it attempted to land 600 illegal Jewish immigrants.

LIGONIER, Pa., March 10.—(INS)—Westmoreland county coroner Adam S. Kepple today reported Mrs. Robert Miller, 20, of Ligonier, was discovered in her home Sunday with a fatal knife wound in her neck.

President Has Conference On Foreign Policy

Meets With Congressional Leaders To Discuss Attitude Of U. S.

EXPECT DECISION TO BE PRESENTED

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(INS)—President Truman will address a joint session of Congress at 1 p. m. EST Wednesday to present a vitally important message on the proposed United States loan to Greece.

The Chief Executive's plan was announced by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) Mich., following an hour and twenty minute conference between the President and congressional leaders of both parties.

By ROBERT G. NIXON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—President Truman will make a fundamental decision today on America's future foreign policy in the strategically important eastern Mediterranean area after a bi-partisan conference with congressional leaders.

The Chief Executive conferred with congressional leaders of both parties in a full-dress discussion of the British-Greek occupation crisis.

How Far Will U. S. Go?

The momentous decision to be reached by Mr. Truman, in the conference, is just how far the United States will go in bolstering the Greek government to remove the threat of its collapse with resultant Communistic encroachment which would place Russian command of the Dardanelles.

Great Britain has appealed to the United States for a further 250 million dollars under the threat of having to withdraw British occupation troops from Greece.

The American State department already has promised to give Britain all possible aid in continuing its military forces in Greece, but there have been some rumblings of dissent in the Congress.

Cancelled Trip

The crisis over the Greek situation caused the President suddenly to cancel a trip which would have

Report Britain May Seek New Loan From U. S.

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Great Britain, faced with mounting economic stress, was reported today to have sounded out this government on the possibility of obtaining another loan.

An authoritative source on Capitol Hill indicated that the British request was not formally made, but was in the nature of a "feeler," designed apparently to gauge American sentiment.

It met a cold reception. The British were told, it was stated, that another loan at this time "just can't be considered."

The British were said to have been informed that the political situation was such as to preclude the possibility of another loan being approved by Congress.

Program Of Economy

Indications were that the British were reminded that the Republican majority in Congress was pledged to a program of economy and that a

Independence Hall Menaced By Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 10.—(INS)—Firemen today soaked the smoldering embers of a $100,000 blaze which for a time menaced historic Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Sparks from the burning four-story shop and warehouse of the Joy Hosiery Co. leaped across Chestnut street and showered on the roof of the hall.

A virtually solid sheet of water sent up by 18 fire companies, however, kept the flames from spreading.

Extra guards were summoned to protect the hallowed structure where the Declaration of Independence and the U. S. constitution were adopted.

It was not necessary, in view of other precautions, to turn on the Independence Hall sprinkler system.

Big Four Treaty At Conference Marshall's Aim

Secretary Of State Reiterates Program At Start Of Big Four Session

PARLEY FORMALLY OPENED TODAY

(BULLETIN)
MOSCOW, Mar. 10.—(INS)—The Big Four council of foreign ministers assembled in Moscow this evening for their long-awaited session and immediately was confronted by a surprise demand for inclusion of China on the agenda.

By KINGSBURY SMITH (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Mar. 10.—The long-awaited Moscow meeting of the Big Four council of foreign ministers opened this evening, with American determination to keep Germany disarmed a keynote of the inaugural session.

Shortly before representatives of the Big Four victor powers assembled in the handsome building of the Fliers' Club some two miles from the center of Moscow, Secretary of State George C. Marshall set forth the United States stand.

He said the American delegation stood unwaveringly behind a Big Four treaty of alliance to endure for at least 40 years and ensure that German military strength would not be born again.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov welcomed the delegates. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin thanked him on behalf of all and asked the Russian statesman to preside at the opening session.

Marshall made his statement at an unprecedented news conference just prior to the opening of the Big Four conference to formulate treaties with Germany and Austria.

Seeks French Support

The American secretary revealed that he has pressed for French support of the Alliance toward which Britain already has related favorably.

A treaty of Alliance to render Germany helpless to make war for a 25-year period first was presented by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. The Russians objected on the grounds that this time was too limited and proposed a 40-year period.

Marshall took the opportunity to reaffirm the American policy re-

The fields are brown where there isn't snow, and the garden is covered with weeds, and the boxes are empty awaiting the day when they get their allotment of seeds. The ground is hard with the winter frost, but it won't be so very long, till over the land with a glassome sound will sing the gardener's song. Now where did he put that old hat of his and where is the rake he had, and hurry a bit to look for the spade, what happened to it, my lad. And soon he'll be ready for start of his work, the work he considers fun, so hurry with the sun of spring—the weather is forty-one.

garding Germany which was outlined by Byrnes in his historic Stuttgart speech of last Sept. 6.

Byrnes, the first incumbent American secretary of state to speak on soil of a defeated and occupied nation, urged at that time that Germany be reunited under a provisional government which would be authorized to carry out terms of a peace settlement.

Will Maintain Forces

The former secretary pointed out that if America pursued this course it did not mean withdrawal of occupation forces. He explained that U. S. troops will be maintained in Germany as long as required. Marshall abandoned Protocol to journey to the Hotel Niska, headquarters of visiting correspondent, instead of summoning them to his residence at the U. S. embassy in Moscow.

The secretary said he discussed the importance of the American 40-year plan for a four-power mutual defense pact against Germany with leading members of the French government during his brief stay in Paris.

Marshall also saw French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault this morning.

Expect Controversy

He declined to discuss at present what he considered the most important points at issue at the Big Four conference. He intimated he will endeavor to bring the Austrian treaty forward in discussions, explaining that this pact is far down on the agenda list but that this fact does not mean it has to wait until everything listed before it must be discussed.

The controversy over Germany is expected to develop with a Soviet accusation against the western allies, especially Britain, that they have failed to carry out the Potsdam decisions.

Snow was falling in the Soviet capital as the hour arrived for the momentous parley.

taken him to the Caribbean area during the next two weeks. Mr. Truman had planned to leave Washington last Saturday morning, following his return from his good-will visit to Mexico, for a visit to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and to witness Atlantic fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean.

The urgent nature of the Greek crisis caused the President to announce the indefinite postponement of his Caribbean trip and to summon top leaders of both parties in Congress to a "showdown" meeting on American policy this morning. The President arranged to meet with a large group of senators and representatives, including majority and minority leaders of both houses, together with the chairmen of foreign relations committees and appropriations committees of both houses, and the minority leaders of those committees as well.

After a conference on policy, the White House is expected to announce presidential procedure on the question of policy toward the British occupation of Greece and the urgent financial support Britain has requested.

This procedural announcement will concern itself with whether the President will send a message to Congress or make a radio broadcast to the nation on the Greek situation.

Three Soldiers Are Sentenced

SEOUL, Korea, Mar. 10.—(INS)—Three American soldiers of the occupation force in Korea were sentenced to prison terms at hard labor today following their conviction on assault and battery charges in connection with the alleged rape of a young Korean matron.

Native vernacular newspapers protested bitterly against what they termed the "mildness of the sentences in view of the high regard held for the chastity of Korean women."

The alleged attack on the Korean matron took place in a GI coach of a train running from Pusan to Seoul.

Thomas L. Crews, West Helena, Ark., was sentenced to 16 months; and Charles H. Jones, Seth, W. Va., and William Carl Singleton, Chapman, Ala., to 10 months each at hard labor as an outgrowth of the incident.

In addition, a court martial ordered the eventual dishonorable discharge of all three soldiers.

ASK SUPREME COURT TO RENEW MANDATE AGAINST COAL STRIKE

Mine Workers' wage agreement with the government. This notice precipitated last fall's 17-day mine shutdown.

Ordinarily, the Supreme Court mandate would not be issued until 25 days after the court's decision of last Thursday upholding contempt convictions against Lewis and the UMW in the recent walkout. This schedule would mean that the mandate would not be issued until March 31, the deadline set by Lewis for a possible new walk-out by the miners when he ordered them back to the pits last December 7.

Clark has filed a motion with the court asking it to issue the mandate immediately. Union attorneys conferred on the government's request over the weekend but did not indicate whether they will oppose it in today's Supreme Court session.

Withdrawal of Lewis' termination notice will reinstate for the miners' benefit the government-UMW wage agreement and continue it in effect until June 30 when federal control of the bituminous industry expires.

The government contends that Lewis had no right to terminate the wage agreement last November and that it always has been in operation. However, this point has not been tried in Federal District court as yet.

Lewis will be required to withdraw the contract termination notice within five days from issuance of the Supreme Court mandate or face payment of an additional $2,800,000 penalties.

The Supreme Court's ruling upholding contempt convictions against Lewis and the UMW reduced from three and half million to $700,000 the fines levied against the union on condition that the UMW complies with the court mandate.

Withdrawal of Lewis' notice will clear the way for the government to invite the UMW president and private mine owners into new wage negotiations looking toward a concowp.

tract that will permit release of the mines from federal control.

Interior Secretary J. A. Krug has announced that he will take no action until Lewis complies with the Supreme Court order.

Whatever THE TIME —

Doctors ARE ON THE JOB!

DOCTORS certainly are not contributors to a "philosophy of idleness," nor have they figured out a way to regiment illness. In hospitals, homes, offices and laboratories, Doctors are on the job day and night, taking care of patients — or seeking better methods of making and keeping them well.

Rare, indeed, is the Doctor whose working time is confined within certain hours.

What with free clinics, hospital staff service, operation hours, emergency calls—the average Doctor's working day is long and arduous. It is difficult to find "vacation" time.

Even the physician with a highly specialized practice is not immune to broken hours of sleep and rest, when emergencies arise.

Don't allow Federal "paper work" and red tape to be added to the load of your family Doctor.

Mibuck, of Enon Valley, and Robert Melvin Grinnen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Grinnen, of Wampum, when they exchanged nuptial vows at a single ring ceremony on Thursday evening, March 6 at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. David D. Webb, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian church, officiated.

The bride was gowned in a silver gray suit fashioned with full sleeves, a cutaway front and peplum-back jacket complemented by accessories of powder blue and a corsage of Briarcliff roses. Lewis in Form
At Senate Quiz

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(INS).—When John L. Lewis first began his performance before the Senate Labor committee, the spectator got the impression that he had grown old and tired. On the day before, the Supreme Court of the United States had struck him down and he seemed in a chastened mood. But this was a superficial impression. When the old actor really got going, you realized he was in there pitching at the top of his form.

This time it was a different role. Instead of Hamlet, he was King Lear—the aging monarch who sees the evil forces of the world conspiring to curb his freedom, confine him and finally destroy him. That was the part, and the great tragedian played it up to the hilt.

His voice, which had begun low and almost indistinct, rose to a roar of noble emphasis. He threw out his hands in a wild gesture, and a dozen flash bulbs caught it in a split second. The crowd standing packed in the committee room had come to hear and see just this—Lewis, the master of the public appearance, the special pleader with no peer.

Members of the committee found it difficult or impossible to break through the barrage of John L.'s rhetoric. Senators Taft, Ball, Aiken, Ellender and Smith all tried it.

Tough on Taft

Taft had particularly bad luck. He remarked that Lewis was assumed to be the sole authority in the United Mine Workers Union. This remark followed some discussion with Ball, who was suggesting that perhaps the UMW was not the most democratic organization in the world. Denying that he was an autocrat, Lewis leaned back, surveyed the Senator from Ohio and delivered himself of the following: "There have been reports in the newspapers that you are pushing the Republicans in Congress around. Senator, but I would not use those reports as a premise until I had discussed with you their truth or falsity."

This drew laughter and applause from the crowd. Grinning, Taft explained that you could not order the 51 Republicans in the Senate to do anything; it could be done only by persuasion.

"Nothing," the senator doth protest too much," said the old Shakespearean in the witness chair.

Match Each Other

All of Lewis' rhetoric could not conceal the basic facts in the coal industry—and they are facts which apply to many other industries. The concentration of control over ownership has been matched by the concentration of control over labor in the industry. The industry-wide union has grown up as a counterpart of the industry-wide owners' association.

The end of that process of concentration is government control or ownership. It is the real explanation why the coal mines today are under at least nominal government operation. Talk about the government wanting to take over the mines and keep them in the shearer's hands, and mischievous nonsense at that. Government operation grew out of the pressure of opposing forces solidly aligned on each side of the fence in a basic industry.

Government seizure of the mines was finally forced in the interest of the public, and the so-called New Deal Supreme Court clearly recognized in its decision. The same pressure may eventually force permanent government control.

Lewis Forgets Benefits

Lewis exploded in indignation at the profits of the coal operators under government operation of the mines. But if he had been honest, he would have said that at the same time the miners, under the contract signed with the government, get benefits that they never had before. One benefit is the health and welfare fund which the UMW has been seeking for years.

The operators are even now protesting that they cannot sign a contract under private operation including this benefit. With the Republican Congress behind them, they may be able to sign it out after June 30, when the law covering government operations expires and the mines must pass back into private hands.

The question the labor committee must answer is a tough one. If they break up the monopoly of the union—by forbidding industry-wide bargaining or in some other way—they also break up the concentration of control in industry. Sen. Ball in particular, with his firm stance in the warm glow of the lime-light, must answer that one. In writing new labor legislation, the committee will have to display the wisdom of Solomon and the patience of Job.

Italy has pensioned Marshal Badoglio. . . It was felt he was entitled to some compensation for his fine work on both sides in the recent war. Badoglio didn't exactly deliver a total victory but he sure knew when to keep it from being a total loss.

Germany has not rewarded any of its losing generals. . . It is true that the Allies have singled out a few for drop-bottom platform appearances.

Nothing much is heard of the former king of Italy. . . For his part in the war he was condemned to retire to a pleasant spot at full pay.

I hear he wired Hirohito recently "Why didn't you quit sooner and get a partnership?"

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

New York's bored people are young girls who came to that city from out of town to work and never learned how to use their leisure time properly. Dr. Milton Gabrielson, of the New York University School of Education, told an audience of union representatives recently.

I don't know how much Dr. Gabrielson has been around, but he has found that those girls he was talking about "shut themselves in with a book or listen to a radio till Monday morning, and miss all the wonderful cultural opportunities the city offers."

Well, just for the fun of it, I asked some twenty out-of-town girls who work in my own office and in several other places. No one of them had read a book over the weekend.

Two had listened to the radio, one for a half hour, the other for about fifteen minutes.

They did not listen to what you would call "cultural" programs, true enough. One had turned on the Jack Benny program. The other tuned in on the Fred Allen show but turned it off after a quarter hour because her boy friend was calling for her to take her to a movie.

How about the other eighteen? Some of them fixed their clothes over the weekend and in the evening went to shows. A few had visited friends and gone to dinner and to shows.

Two went up-state for some skating and two more went skating in Central Park.

Most of them read their Sunday papers (and all of the "most") had thoroughly digested their comic books.

Almost every day we read tragic stories about fires . . . hotel fires, warehouse fires . . . home fires . . . lives lost . . . property damaged . . . It should make every real American stop and think . . . how are you fixed for fires.

Yes . . . how are you fixed for fires . . . we don't mean could you start a fire . . . but what are you doing to stop fires. Many fires are started because of negligence. Letting rubbish collect in attics and basements . . . not having proper fire prevention inspections in public buildings and private buildings during the year. There isn't too much that can be done . . . that old saying . . . one ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure should be seriously considered.

We citizens should look also at our fire fighting equipment. What shape is it . . . do we have sufficient equipment . . . or just how good is our fire department? After all we pay for the fire department and therefore we are entitled to know all about it . . . and as good citizens we should see that the proper equipment is made available for the men to use . . . and we should also see to it that all men are properly trained in the business of fire fighting.

Have you looked over the fire fighting equipment in New Castle? Do we need new equipment? Do we have the proper rescue equipment, is our aerial ladder efficient and safe to use? How old is the most of our equipment? The age of the water squirting fireman is over . . . today it's different . . . putting the fire out before it starts which in fireman circles is called fire prevention.

Some folks will say . . . oh let the building burn . . . we have it covered by insurance . . . but suppose a life is lost . . . can you place a price on a life? It's not up to the firemen to secure the proper equipment . . . that's the taxpayers' job . . . and anyhow, all the best equipment in the world if not properly manned won't save a life or building . . . In addition to modern equipment . . . properly trained fire fighters . . . we need a law with teeth that will back up fire prevention inspections . . . It's a big job.

Congress Should Have Federal Employment Facts

WASHINGTON, March 10. NOW that the question of governmental retrenchment has passed from the abstract to the concrete and for the first time Congress is really poised to swing the economy ax against a Federal bureaucracy so abnormally swollen that the wonder is it can function at all, the need is for Congress to have the indisputable facts of Federal employment.

OBVIOUSLY, these are the first essentials. If Congress is to proceed wisely and logically, it should be able to look to the Civil Service Commission to supply these facts. But, it is contended, the CSC does not supply them—at least not in reliable form, or in any form which can be readily understood. There is no charge that the commission falsifies its employment reports. Rather the charge is that its method of presenting them is unfortunate and misleading. Whether they mean to do so or not their reports are on the rosy side and invariably show a "trend" toward far greater reduction than has taken place.

CERTAINLY, the commission's reports frequently clash with those of the Byrd Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. It may be claimed that the Byrd committee's tendency is to slant its figures in the other direction but that does not seem borne out by examination. The main difference is that the commission paints a rosy picture of the "trend toward reduction" in the opening paragraphs of its reports and contrives to obscure the things that nullify the rosy trend by putting them deep in statistical tables where almost no one sees them, or, often, leaving them out altogether.

FOR example, in the summary of its February 4 release, the CSC conspicuously asserts that nearly one and a half million persons had been cut off the pay roll between June, 1945, and December 31, 1946. But it conspicuously does not inform us that in the same period 339,760 persons in the white-collar class have been put on. In addition to hiding that trenchant fact, the commission fails to show—or at least diligent search fails to find—that of all workers dropped from the pay roll in this eighteen-month period twelve out of fourteen were munitions or navy yard workers of the Army and Navy. Congress is interested in the hundreds of thousands of Government clerical workers who have been piled into Government agencies since the beginning of the war, and should have reliable sources of information on the rate at which they are leaving now that the war has ended.

WHILE the commission blandly states that nearly one and a half million persons have been dropped from the pay roll, it does not state that it is giving merely the difference between the 1945 employment figure and that of December, 1946. Actually, 1,793,676 persons left the pay roll in that period. By subtracting the "nearly one and a half million" CSC's report from the sum of those who were actually separated from the service, one discovers that the "trend" in Federal employment is toward increase rather than decrease. The only possible way that this trend can be gleaned from the commission's report is by making an agency-by-agency comparison comparing that count with statistics released a year ago. Congress should not be forced to set up committees to dig out these facts.

BY not pointing out that practically all of the "nearly one and a half million" reduction came from the Army and Navy, the commission creates a further erroneous impression that this reduction covers all agencies of the Government. The fact is, if you read the February 4 CSC report carefully, you will find that other Government agencies released only 196,175 employees. Nowhere will you find in the report the number of new employees put on by these agencies. Nor when it is proclaimed that seventeen emergency agencies were either "terminated or transferred" since the end of the war, is there any mention that six new agencies have been created. Also, it is not explained that when an agency is "terminated" or "transferred" it does not necessarily mean reduction in the pay roll.

EVEN when, as in the case of OWI, the agency is terminated it did not preclude the transfer of several thousand OWI employees to the State Department, where they are now helping Mr. William Benton's so-called "information service." These omissions to give the hiring as well as the firing statistics are the chief reason for the threat of "investigation" that has been rumbling about Congress—and, at the moment, cherished by Chairman Reese of the House Civil Service Committee. The commission itself should be able to restore confidence in it and end such threats. All it has to do is correct its alleged slant, which creates an impression that the reduction in employees is being made far faster than it is, thus tending to make the demand for further reductions seem unwarranted.

FOR example, if as claimed by some authorities on the subject, there is now one Federal employee for every 85 citizens, that is the sort of thing the CSC should make public. Certainly, it should not be concealed. Also, the almost fabulous increase in the personnel of the Veterans Administration where there are now, it is said, one employee for every 60 veterans is a fact to which the public is entitled. A useful purpose could be served by presenting it. It seems a national disservice to make it hard to dig out.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD LEARNS FROM QUESTIONS

The little child before entering school learns more, perhaps, than during all the rest of his life. For the most part he is his own teacher. We teach him occasionally, but more often we stand in the way of his learning.

We need to provide this little child with proper playthings and tools and show him how to use them carefully. Even better than the materials we give him to amuse himself with is our show of appreciation of what he achieves with them. We need to celebrate the child's successes at his play, especially his creative play.

Understand Imagination
Furthermore, we need to understand how a little child's imagination works, need to enjoy his creations with words as well as things, listen to his yarns of fancy and encourage his play at make-believe alone or with other children. Therefore we should read to him from fanciful as well as factual sources in order to provide him with more to think about, talk about and utilize in his creations and spontaneous dramatizations. No better way, moreover, to cultivate good habits of concentration in him than to read much to him. A selected list of books for this purpose may be had in a stamped envelope.

A ceaseless actor and creator, the young child is an endless questioner and investigator. Provide things which he can take apart, but don't let the baby destroy his toys from curiosity. A good rule is not to allow any child to take them apart until he is able wholly to restore them.

Grunt Or Gesture

Long before the child can talk he asks many questions by a grunt or gesture. Every adult knows how the child from two to six interrogates. On a morning walk my eldest son at the age of three asked me 97 questions, which was a small proportion of the number for the whole day. Shall we answer all of them? Of course, and as accurately as we can. Many will exceed our wisdom. We shall not be so impatient as to let them accrue to our ignorance and then go with the child to another person or book.

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(I. N. S. Foreign Editor)

The agenda of the Big Four council of foreign ministers opening in Moscow is well-established.

It is simply an attempt to draft peace treaties for Germany and Austria—although the word "simply" applies none too well in view of world-wide realization there is little hope of achieving these aims during the current sessions.

But along with the major issues at stake there are myriads of questions concerning the Soviet Russia of the present day which cry for answers. It is a foregone conclusion that the highly able corps of American correspondents accompanying Secretary of State George C. Marshall will seek for them.

Here are a few, for example, that inevitable are buzzing around in the minds of every thinking person: Is Premier Generalissimo Stalin seriously ill, perhaps definitely failing in health? Why did he choose comparatively little-known Gen. Nikolai Bulganin to take over his heavy personal responsibilities as chief of the Soviet Union's armed forces?

Will Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov greet his conferees with the same great apparent friendliness which he displayed at their last parting? How does Russia as a whole feel toward the uncompromising attitude on the atomic bomb and other questions consistently displayed by Andrei Gromyko at the United Nations sessions? Is it actually true that lack of Discounting the charges of Communism against Mr. Lilienthal, the fact remains that he owes his elevation to the TVA chairmanship to the man who went to the extreme limit in appeasement. Many of his most conspicuous sponsors are known to favor still further appeasement. Without implying that Mr. Lilienthal might use his position in any manner to reveal our atomic secrets, Senators are justified in assuming that his selection would run counter to the will of the voters as recently expressed.

Neither is it a far-fetched assumption that this expression of the popular will means a desire to root out from positions of responsibility all exponents of the New Deal. Mr. Lilienthal is one of the outstanding exponents of that regime and for many years has held a position of great responsibility, not comparable, however, with that which would accrue as head of the atomic commission.

Arctic Ramparts

As one of the first steps in their new joint program for mutual security, the United States and Canada are establishing nine new weather stations along the rim of the Arctic Circle. These new "eyes" and "ears" at the top of the world will serve two highly important purposes.

The weather information which they collect from day to day will be of immense assistance in preparing weather forecasts. Many of the storms which sweep down from the north, disrupting railroad and airline schedules, breed in these frigid areas. At present there are no permanent observation posts between Greenland and Alaska. Filling in this gap will supply far more complete and reliable information.

It will also put the United States in a position to know when, if ever, any attempt to attack Canada or the United States by air or rocket is made over the Arctic Icecap. The same sort of radar installations which are useful in detecting storms will serve, with equal facility, to detect a possible enemy.

Establishment of these tiny posts in a vast wilderness could not conceivably be considered a threat to any nation. It is patently a purely defensive installation.

At the same time, the mere fact that the United States considers it necessary to post observers in these remote and distant spots shows how much the age of long-range airplanes, guided missiles and atomic bombs has changed defense mechanisms. The nation's ramparts are now close to the North Pole, and no barren or remote areas in which they lie can for a moment be left unguarded.

Of No Help To Congress

If the Senate Labor committee expected the nation's labor leaders to help it draft legislation which would cure some of the nation's obvious industrial ills it must understand by now that it is doomed to disappointment. Without exception these men take the position that no new laws or changes in laws are needed and that the present situation is ideal.

The public of course knows better than that. Its memory is not so short that it has forgotten the disastrous strikes of 1946—strikes which on two occasions resulted in a virtual tieup of the country's economy and which revealed the tragic fact that a few men had it in their power to inflict suffering and privation on the people of the United States. To say that Congress should do nothing about this condition is to show a reckless disregard for the future of the nation.

Any revision of the labor laws, David Dubinsky, perpetual president of the Ladies' Garment Workers Union, declared, would be "a body blow to our democracy" and destroy the economic security of the workers. He was only repeating what other labor leaders had said.

All that is so much nonsense. It is not democracy but dictatorship when a John L. Lewis, at his own sweet will and whim, can call a strike of 500,000 miners and not only deprive them of the opportunity of earning a living but make idle additional hundreds of thousands of workers in plants which depend on coal for their operating power. Nor does any American have economic security when a Whitney can stop the wheels of the nation's railroads and prevent the movement of the necessities of everyday life.

Fortunately Congress gives no sign that it is impressed by the negative attitude assumed by the labor leaders who have appeared before it. Like the people, Congressmen remember what happened last year and will take action designed to prevent it from happening again.

Inexcusable Conduct

One of the more distressing signs of our times has been the lack of respect for democratically exercised authority that has been shown by public school pupils who have engaged in strikes and conducted themselves like the most belligerent labor union pickets.

In several instances parents have given aid and comfort to children conducting themselves in this antisocial manner. They ought to be ashamed of themselves.

A lack of respect and a manifestation of parental pampering of children who have impudently defied school authorities are exemplified by the repugnant situation that has prevailed in the Clearview-Vincent school district in Lorain county. It was also exemplified by the three-day strike of pupils of the Mount Clemens (Mich.) High school because the principal was not rehired for next year by the board of education.

The teaching corps of the Clearview school and the allied Vincent school had every justification, in our opinion, for tendering their resignations because the Clearview pupils walked out in protest against an instance of mild physical punishment for one of their number whom the principal had adjudged insolent. It is difficult to say whether the pupils or their parents, who seemingly support the children in undemocratic, mob rule action, should be taken to the woodshed and given chastisement on their backsides.

School government in this nation provides orderly processes by which grievances against a school administrator accused of unreasonably harsh discipline may be adjudicated. Pupils' strikes and parental indulgence of such action are sneak punches at democracy. Parents ought to be taught, and required to teach their children, the Jeffersonian principle that there is no liberty save the liberty of the law.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

War bonds will begin to expire in 1951, which probably will be the excuse that year for not reducing taxes.

State Council Aids In Blind Rehabilitation

Approximately three months ago, Stanley Sakolowski of R. D. 8, Moorehead avenue, was placed by the rehabilitation section of the State Council for the Blind of the Welfare Department as operator of the confectionery stand in the post office, replacing Miss Dorothy Hunter, who resigned as operator of the concession to be married.

Stanley admitted his shyness after first taking over the stand, his first business venture, but now he enjoys meeting and talking with the many people who daily come into the lobby of the post office. More than that, he is glad to be back home after spending many years in a school for the blind.

After leaving school upon graduation he was placed in a mediocre job that paid very little and brought much dissatisfaction to him due to his meager earnings. He desired something that would have a future. Hearing about the program of the State Council for the Blind, he turned to them for help and was surprised at the interest they displayed in his case.

The council promised to get him a worthwhile job and near his home too and after a series of interviews, tests, physical examinations and periods of counseling, he was told that the job he now holds would be open due to Miss Hunter's resignation.

Example Of Work

Here was the opportunity for Stanley to do the kind of work he was qualified to do in his own home town with his friends and family. After three months at his present position, Stanley has already made a host of friends and has that self-confidence that he, though he is handicapped by living in darkness, can support himself.

Stanley's case is an example of what the rehabilitation section of the State Council for the Blind, Department of Welfare can do. Some of the following services are being rendered by the department: Location of persons in need of rehabilitation service, medical, psychiatric and psychological exams, vocational counseling, hospitalization and medical attention, physical and occupational therapy, pre-vocational and vocational training. Numerous other services are being extended. The program which is made possible through state-federal cooperation is being carried out in eight district offices over Pennsylvania, the nearest of which is in the Columbia Bank building, room 408, Pittsburgh, Pa. Interested blind persons can get in touch with the bureau at the above office.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

to find the answer. By doing so we prove ourselves a learner with the child as well as a good pal.

We parents are most readily annoyed by questions very hard to answer and questions which embarrass us. If we are honest we shall not be irritated by exposure of our ignorance. Furthermore, no question should embarrass us. Something is wrong with our way when we think there is anything he should not ask us. If for instance, he should ask where babies come from, we should say that they grow from a tiny egg or cell in the mother's body, in as matter-of-fact way as if we were answering, "where do potatoes grow?"

Let the child wait on himself as early as he can, doing nothing for him which he easily can do himself. Let us not overlook how much of skill and knowledge a young child may learn from other children; how much, moreover for getting along with other people all his life. No matter how skillful we parents may be at letting or helping the little child learn from us, we hamper his best education unless we set the stage for his spending considerable time at normal play with other children. the majority, the Senate Republicans may claim justification for opposing the confirmation.

The Republican majority which was returned to Congress last November was particularly instructed by the people occasioning the return to accomplish the following duties:

First, to get rid of the New Deal in all its phases of the government, particularly its personnel.

Second, to make no further appeasement to Russia.

And now, by the time this is printed there may be recorded in the United States Senate a lot of Republican votes for approving the President's choice of Mr. Lillenthal as the head of the Civilian Atomic Energy Commission and what will Mr. Lillenthal know about atomic power? What is the necessity of having a commission anyway? The Republican Party almost to a man and a great portion of the Democratic Party are opposed to handing to Russia any of the secrets of the atomic bomb. And if a commission is absolutely necessary, its sole purpose would be to say to Russia, "No, we will tell you nothing."

DEFECTS AND WORKERS

We have a lot to learn before we can succeed in having all of our citizens 100 per cent perfect physically.

Our health workers are trying all the time to keep people healthy. We should not get discouraged if we find some people who are somewhat handicapped.

A man might not be able to serve in active combat in the army. He might be quite a success as a banker or preacher or teacher. He might even be tough enough to be a doctor.

A first class fighting man must be in top condition mentally and physically.

Just because a good many of our boys were rejected for active service does not mean that we are a nation of weaklings.

In spite of our good intentions we will have accidents and diseases. Let's try to make the best of what we have and also try to improve ourselves.

What People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, tells Congress: "There is nothing the matter with our coal industry except the ill-treatment accorded its employees. The UMW could settle that with the coal operators if the government will cease using a black-jack to beat the miners into submission while the operators take the profits."

WASHINGTON—Rep. Charles A. Eaton, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, urges aid to Greece: "It may well determine whether this world is to be inhabited by slaves or free people."

WASHINGTON—Fred A. Hartley, Jr., chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor: "We propose to put the relationship between labor and management on an even keel."

"One Telephone Call, Please"

YOU KNOW, OF COURSE, that you don't order a telephone call as you'd order a candy bar or a cigar. Your telephone call is custom-built, exclusively for you—and it's our job to fill your order promptly, accurately, courteously, and economically—whether you call across the street, the town, the state, the continent, or the world.

IT TAKES A LOT OF PEOPLE and a lot of equipment and a lot of buildings and a lot of know-how and a lot of money to do all this, for the custom-built call you order is only one of over 9 MILLION calls that must be custom-built every day for the people of Pennsylvania alone!

TO MAKE THESE CALLS BETTER AND FASTER—and to make more and more calls possible—we're all-out right now on one of the biggest expansion programs in our history. We have one aim: To provide the world's finest telephone service for everyone who wants it, everywhere in the territory we serve.

FOUR FIRE CALLS OCCUR OVER WEEKEND

City firemen were called out four times over the week end, but the fires were of small consequence, Acting Chief George W. Harper reports.

At 3:25 p.m. Sunday, anti-freeze in the auto of George Kennedy, of 120 Edison avenue, caught fire, but it had been put out when firemen arrived. At 11:20 a.m. Sunday, soot dropped down behind the grate in the home of A. D. Thompson, of 207 Park avenue and caught fire but no action was required of firemen. No loss resulted. Seventh ward firemen were called to the home of Paul Dominick, of 15 West Cherry street at 10:10 p.m., Saturday when the chimney burned out, but no action was required here. At 2:15 p.m., Saturday, a short circuit in the car of Charles Clark, of 213

Weaver street, occasioned an alarm. The insulation was burned off some of the wiring of the car.

ACKNOWLEDGING WEDDING GIFTS

"When should wedding gift acknowledgments be made? Is it permissible to send cards of thanks when the bride has received a great number of gifts? Also is it permissible for her to exchange some gifts which replicate others? Should gifts received after the wedding be acknowledged by both the bride and the groom?"

Answer: Wedding gifts should be sent as soon as possible after receipt of the invitation and they should be acknowledged as soon as possible after they are received. Many brides think that this can be attended to when they return from their honeymoon. But they are wrong. Only those gifts received after the wedding may be correctly acknowledged at so late a date, unless the delay is necessary.

Thank-you cards for this purpose are improper. Any person thoughtful enough to send a gift deserves the courtesy of a note from the bride.

While the exchange habit is not recommended, there is no reason why a bride should not exchange a gift for which she will have no use or one that was duplicated. Some guests explain to brides they know well that they may exchange their gifts if they receive duplicates. Of course, anything marked with the bride's initial is not returnable.

All wedding gifts are the property of the bride and should be acknowledged by her. This applies also to gifts delayed until after the wedding. In her notes, she should make reference to her husband—"Bill and I are so pleased with the beautiful silver tray you and Mr. Smith sent us." An acknowledgment should always be addressed to the wife but the husband should be thanked also in the body of the letter.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 10.—Ah well, another week has begun in glamorville with Ginger Rogers up in the air about her plans. Our beautiful friend had expected to be hard at work this week in "Wild Calendar" for Enterprise. But, no go, folks. A proper script isn't ready yet. Besides that, Columbia would very much like to have Ginger do a picture for them, but who wouldn't? She'd rather do the Enterprise opus first. Maybe she and her handsome hubby, Associate Producer Jack Briggs, will just fold their tent and go up to their Oregon ranch for some fishing until a proper script jells.

June Haver has joined the Hollywood art colony in a big way. She's taken up painting murals, although her present project will have to wait until she finishes "Scudda Hoo, Scudda Hay" for 20th Century-Fox. "Do you know what I'm doing," said Dainty June, looking up at your skinny reported with her great big blue eyes, "I'm doing a mural on the wall of my den. It's about 16 feet long and eight feet high."

That, my friends, seems like quite a project for a beginner. John Garfield has begun his prize fight scenes for "Body and Soul" by bruising his left knuckles. They're taped up to prevent any further damage.

John looked pretty trim in his trunks, but he said to your reporter: "I'm really too old for this sort of stuff."

"What are you trying to give me," said your reporter. "I'm not kidding," said Johnny. "I'm too old. Why, I was 34 only day before yesterday."

The most fun last week was the pre-academy award luncheon given by Dorothy Lamour for Bob Hope.

The whole purpose was to present Bob with an "Oscarette," a small statue of Dottie in a sarong, which, believe us, is far more attractive than a real "Oscar."

There were 30 present, including three scribes. Everybody made speeches in honor of the great occasion.

The stars had taken time out from "Road to Rio", in which Bing Crosby is also playing. But Dottie pointed out that she and Bob had recently co-starred in "My Favorite Brunette."

The party was a surprise, so much so that Bob almost didn't get there. He had a date with his bankers, but two scouts spotted him as he was about to leave the studio.

Your reporter had a wonderful time talking about house racing, including the recent $100,000 handicap with Bing, who owns a stable. Bob was at his best. When he first sat down, he scanned the tableload of guests and said: "What I want to know is, who is going to pick up the check?" Dottie did.

Canada, with an area of 3,695,189 square miles, is the third largest country in the world, and the largest in the western hemisphere.

Guild Announces Concert Program

Thomas L. Thomas To Open
1947-48 Metropolitan
Concert Guild Season

Announcement is made today by the Metropolitan Concert Guild of the program for the season of 1947-48.

Four outstanding attractions have been booked, opening with Thomas L. Thomas, nationally known baritone on November 6. The request for a return engagement for Mr. Thomas were so numerous and insistent that the talent committee felt amply justified in his return. His engagement here eighteen months ago was a triumph.

On Thursday, January 15, 1948, "A Night in Old Vienna" will be presented, a musical program presented by six outstanding artists. Benno Moisevitich, internationally known pianist will come here on February 10, 1948, and for the closing attraction the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra will appear under the direction of Fabien Sevitzky.

Because of the high quality of talent and the increase of prices generally, the Guild finds it necessary to make some minor adjustments in prices for the coming season.

Makes Trip From South Africa To Boston For Aid

BOSTON, March 10.—(INS)—Corp. Philip Duplooy of Capetown and the South African army, paralyzed for two and a half years, had a grin on his face today. His dream was coming true.

Duplooy had his spinal cord severed by a bullet during the Italian campaign. Six months ago he heard of a Boston surgeon, Dr. Donald Munro, whose skill had made many men sound and well. The corporal arrived at South Station today accompanied by two Canadian nurses. His trip had been financed by the South African government and men of his regiment. The nurses are going home now that the corporal is safely delivered. They are sure the Boston surgeon can do something for him.

City Revival Services End

Large Audiences At Concluding Programs In Cathedral Sunday

BELIEVE SERIES MOST SUCCESSFUL

One of the most successful evangelistic endeavors in a united way in the city of New Castle came to a conclusion Sunday evening when more than 2200 persons assembled in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Lincoln avenue, to hear Dr. Robert bring the closing address of the two-week series.

Speaking on "The Greatest Crime, the Greatest Failure and Greatest Triumph in the History of the Human Race", Dr. Wells turned to the gospel of John, using the crucifixion scene in the 19th chapter as the basis for his address. The evangelist clearly pointed out that men inwardly are still crucifying afresh the Son of God in this day by rejecting Him and as their personal Saviour.

During the simple appeal for men and women to accept the way of Christ, some 35 or 40 at the close of the Sunday evening service found their way to the rear of the Cathedral platform where workers dealt with them, pointing out the scriptures to each seeker.

Musical Program

Prior to the address of the hour, one of the best musical programs of the campaign was presented by the musical party. Forrest Schickedanz of Peoria, Ill., song leader for the series, directed the great audience in singing a number of gospel hymns. The Smitty girls quintet of Minneapolis again were given numerous rounds of applause with their splendid interpretation of the hymns they sang. They were accompanied at the organ by Mrs. V. E. Smith. Arlene Reinhold, a member of the quintet, honoring numerous requests, sang "Across the Great Divide" as a solo. The presentation of G. Howard Jones, cornetist of Milwaukee, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning" was most effective, as the blue lights of the Cathedral were turned on. The chorus choir, under the leadership of Mr. Schickedanz, presented "The Hallelujah Chorus" in an able manner.

A similar well attended service was conducted during the afternoon in the Cathedral when Dr. Wells spoke on the subject "Meet Me In Heaven".

Appreciates Cooperation

Dr. Wells took opportunity at the closing service to thank everyone who in any manner assisted in making the revival campaign such an outstanding success in the point of prior preparation. The series was jointly sponsored by the Christian Business Men's committee of New Castle and 20 cooperating evangelical churches.

The budget for the two-week series of $3000 was raised through the contribution of the audiences in their nightly offerings, with sufficient funds coming in to meet every obligation contracted in connection with the campaign. The offerings received on Sunday were given to Dr. Wells as a love gift for his services given while in the city.

Chairman for the successful event was Dr. Robert W. Baum, local C. M. B. C. head, who was assisted by many laymen and ministers of the city who helped to make the series a long to be remembered one in the city of New Castle.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, the musical party will remain over for a sacred concert to be presented at the First Methodist church, where the initial services of the campaign got under way. The service will consist entirely of music and will feature the Smitty girls quintet and the song leader, Mr. Schickedanz.

Continue Search For Weapon In Morsell Death

Sheriff Frank Coen continued today to search for the revolver which was used to fatally wound John Morsell, 63, of South Front street, one week ago tonight.

The sheriff is using a magnet which is capable of clutching anything of a metal nature. On Saturday it caught a cap pistol in addition to many pieces of metal.

It is a cold, slow and tedious job.

Actress, Bandsman Honeymooning Today

HOLLYWOOD, March 10.—(INS)—Actress June Haver and Trumpe- James Zito took off from Las Vegas, Nev., today on a four-day honeymoon, leaving bewildered Hollywood columnists in their wake.

Pert 19-year-old blonde June was married yesterday morning to Zito, a Ted Fio Rito bandman, whom she met several years ago when she was a soloist with Fio Rito.

Miss Haver had persistently been rumored engaged to Fio Rito but Zito recently came to Hollywood and the old friendship flowered into love.

The Haver family—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Haver and Sister Evelyn—acted as witnesses for the Las Vegas ceremony before Justice of the Peace Harvey MacDonald.

Yugoslavia Will Get Shipment Of Grain By UNRRA

LONDON, March 10.—(INS)—The London News Chronicle said today that the appeal of an American charge d'affaires in Belgrade will result in an emergency shipment of UNRRA grain to Yugoslavia.

The Belgrade dispatch indicated this may be a turning point in strained United States-Yugoslav relations. The article identified John Cabot as the state department representative who supported the demands of UNRRA missions in Yugoslavia for immediate action to make up the nation's 100 thousand-ton bread shortage.

The dispatch described the situation as so critical that at least one grain vessel bound for Italy or Austria is expected to be diverted to a Yugoslav port.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

WITH the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety and our duty to promote world peace—all are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for training in valuable skills at Army schools.

It is a high tribute to the loyalty and spirit of the American soldier that two out of every three men in the present Army are veterans—men who have known the hardships of war and have chosen to continue their service.

A job in the new Regular Army is a good job—a job that compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most.

You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily—to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure.

R. L. P. H.
SECRETARY OF WAR

Five Divorce Suits Are Filed

Four Women And One Man File Suits For Divorce From Mates In County Court

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Five new divorce proceedings have been entered in the office of Lawrence County Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar. Earl Nimmo of 114 South Walnut street asks for a divorce from Elizabeth Tina Nimmo, address unknown, upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married December 15, 1932, in New Castle.

Viola De Caprio of 118 South Beaver street, New Castle, asks a divorce from Guy De Caprio of 829 Court street upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married January 2, 1934, in New Castle.

Caroline R. Offredo of 223 Hillside avenue, Ellwood City, asks a divorce from Ernest Offredo of 908 Pollock avenue, New Castle, upon the grounds of indignities to person. They were married November 3, 1940 in Ellwood City.

Regina Conti of 412 Beatty street, Ellwood City, asks a divorce from Carmen Conti of 1517 Capital avenue, Sacramento, Calif., upon the grounds of indignities to person. They were married January 23, 1945, in East New Castle.

Mary L. Wilson, of R. D. 1, Wampum, asks a divorce from Harry E. Wilson of Battle Creek, Mich., upon the grounds of indignities to person. They were married May 6, 1943 in New Castle.

WAIT FOR 100,000

Since the issuance of the 50,000th marriage license there has been some conjecture around the court house as to when the 100,000th license would be issued. Averaging the last 15 years it would seem that it would take about 45 years more. It is hardly likely anybody in the court house now will have anything to do with the 100,000.

RUBBER RECORD

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness. To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Steel sets the pace for progress

He's thinking up things to make life better for you

YOUR garage man can pound a dent out of your steel fender—and make it as good as new. Made of almost anything except steel, your fender would have a hole in it, or else you would have to buy a new one.

The gears of your car can now stand five times as much wear as the best gear steel of twenty years ago.

And so it goes for thousands of things you buy. Better and safer automobiles, better watches, better shovels, better refrigerators—all start with better steels that come out of the research laboratories of steel companies.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

The Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The members of the Gunnersy Sgt. Harry T. Burns detachment of the Marine Corps League desire to express their opinion on the proposed Lawrence County monument to the veterans of the Second World War.

We as a detachment feel that while it is most desirable that our veterans be honored for their services to their God and country, it would be much more fitting that a memorial be erected or dedicated that would be of benefit to the residents of the county and especially to the coming generation.

It is proposed that representatives of all veterans organizations and all the Civic clubs throughout Lawrence county meet and take up the subject of a World War II Memorial and that the findings of these representatives be given wide publicity.

Respectfully,
Gy. Sgt. Harry T. Burns Det.
Marines Corps League.

COLOR IMPORTANT IN SPRING WARDROBE

When buying fabrics to make your own clothes or buying ready-made garments for the spring wardrobe, color is very important this season, according to Miss Emmeline Mehlman, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county. Many of the colors may be described as luxury pastels.

Off-whites and gray are top favorites for coats and suits, with beige being slightly more popular. Rose-tinted beige, lemon beige and others may be referred to as "toasty" beige.

Sky blue and gray blue are favorites, alone or in combination with deeper blues. Aqua to quite a bright turquoise is another interesting color note. Navy and black are equally good for spring.

Greens may be grayed or bright, and browns are more of a spicy shade. Deep rose shades and warm reds, like currant, also are popular.

New variations of colors appear each year and are given new names. This season there is bonbon pink, sugar blue, lemon-ice yellow, licorice black, peanut brittle brown, honey beige and taffy brown.

Spring prints will be gay with large flowers. Sunny-toned cottons are decorated with motifs ranging from tiny floral designs to large swirling geometrics.

All white costume jewelry will predominate this season, and gloves will be pale pink, pastel blue, beige tones and grays.

Foresee Drop In Prices Of Homes

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(INS)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards today predicted that prices and sales of homes will drop in a majority of cities during 1947. The association said its forecast was based on returns from its 46th semi-annual survey of the real estate market in 475 cities throughout the nation. The association declared: "Prices of residential property are expected to be lower as the year progresses in 53 per cent of the reporting cities, and to remain at their present level in 36 per cent. Only 11 per cent of the cities believe that prices will continue to rise."

FORD CITY HIGH, WEST NEWTON WIN TOURNEY CLASHES

Glassers Eliminate Monessen Quint; Hornets Take 24-22 Game From Carmichaels

Ford City Glassers advanced to the semi-finals of the Class "A" tourney of the W. P. I. A. L. Saturday night by erasing Monessen's Greyhounds 36-34 at the Pitt Stadium floor, while West Newton's Hornets moved ahead in the "B" play-offs by winning from Carmichaels 24-22 at Donora's court.

The Glassers quint took their verdict in the final seconds of the game when Eddie Halls, reserve forward, hit with a front loop, erasing a rally that took three minutes and spanned a seven-point gap.

The Forders will now tangle with Aliquippa Tuesday night at the stadium in the lower-bracket semi-final pairing. The Rupert-coached passers won from New Brighton in their first test 61-36, while the Quips own a win over Arnold 53-32.

West Newton Wins

West Newton's Hornets won the right to play in the Class "B" games by whipping Rostraver to take their section laurels, weathered their first test Saturday night at Donora by tripping Carmichaels 24-22.

Although the game was close and tied twice the Hornets were ahead throughout despite a spirited rally in the final frame when the losers outscored the Townsend-piloted lads 10-6.

Action Tonight

Tonight will be the start of "championship" week in the tourney with the end of the week seeing the finals slated for both divisions.

At the Dormont court this evening Wampum's Indians will attempt to reserve a place in the finals as they met Snowden High's dangerous Section XII tossers.

Snowden, with their clever Negro center, Nathaniel Wilson, ready to go, are gunning for the Hennon men who have sidestepped Leetsdale and East Washington to advance. Snowden's win over Verona.

In Class "A", Duquesne's Little

Dukes of Section VI will collide with Wilkinsburg at the Pitt floor. This promises to be a ding-dong battle as the Holy City quint, with wins over Mt. Lebanon and Greensburg, try to top the Dukes to appear in the championship tilt. Duquesne has bumped Uniontown thus far. The winner of this clash will meet the Aliquippa-Ford City victor in the title game.

OPTIMIST BENEFIT GAME WILL DRAW CROWD TO ARENA

Owing to the many tournaments a few of the local stars will not be present tonight, and practices have been limited.

Dembinski Will Perform

The fans will get a thrill as they watch the great Dembinski in action. The star Titan pivot man from New Kensington, has dumped in 355 in collegiate circles. He is one of the brightest Westminster stars since the days of Brownlee and Wes Bennett, both great centers.

Too much cannot be expected of the All-Stars owing to lack of playing together all season, but Douglass is hoping that the stars can give the collegians a real battle.

There has been a lively ticket sale to date, but there are still plenty of good reserved seats available. There will be 1,000 grand admission seats go on sale at the door tonight at 7 o'clock.

Miltons Win At Darlington, Pa.

The Milton A. C. basketball team paced by their star forward, Eddie Jacobs with 20 points defeated the Darlington Vets 69 to 56. Reed with 17 points and Davies with 12 also were stars in the Milton lineup. Marshall and Graham were best for the losers. The Miltons have won 17 and lost nine this year for a very impressive record.

Favor Arnold To Beat Falco

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 10.—(INS)—Billy Arnold, Philadelphia welterweight, was rated an 11 to 5 favorite today to halt the rise of Joey Falco, his home town rival, in a 10-rounder at the Arena tonight.

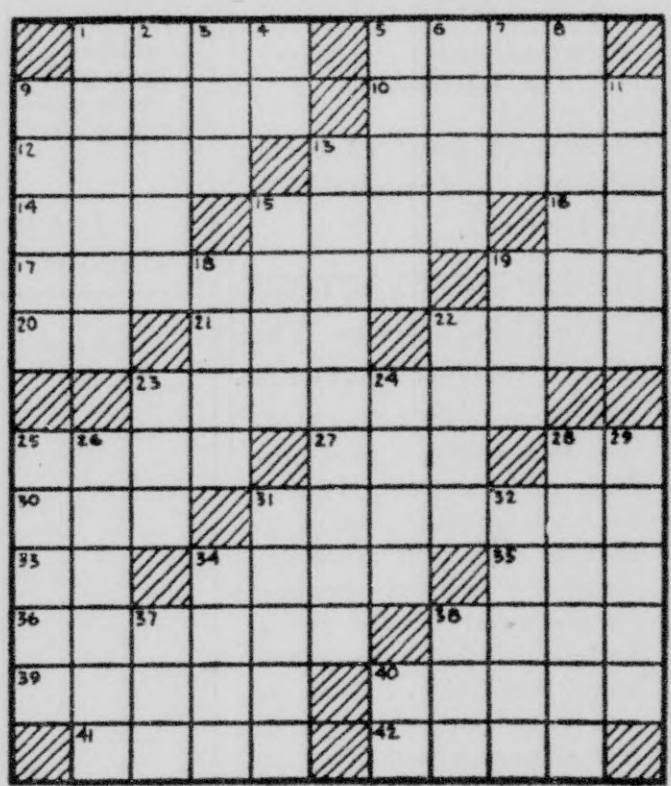

The stubby Falco is riding the crest of 17 victories in Scranton. Some experts were predicting an upset win for Joey if he can weather Arnold's early attack.

He is authorized and directed in the bill to remove controls as soon as possible.
